Member handbook

Veo teams + Suno / Trabawho

Simple instructions for working together, owning clients, and recording your work.

Updated 15 October 2026. All work schedules and deadlines use Philippine time (PHT).

Start your workday

- Open your own team's announcements and check any updates.
- Answer the dated availability polls. There are three parts covering all 24 hours. Select every hour you can work. Choose "Not available in these hours" for a block you cannot work; it overrides other choices in that block.
- In NEW CLIENTS, tap Ready or send `/ready` once when you can accept new clients. This stays on until `/busy` or a missed acceptance deadline. Keep your hourly polls accurate too.
- Review each offer before accepting. Wait for the bot's confirmation naming you as the editor before contacting the client.
- Tap Busy or send `/busy` before a break, leaving, or when your workload is full. Update your polls if your available hours change.

Your team target is based on the dated availability polls. Each member counts once per team. Check Announcements for the updated target; tomorrow's votes apply to tomorrow. Planned advertising budgets appear in the manager reports.

Work together: one client, one confirmed editor

- Respect the confirmed editor shown in the latest client list. Do not message or work on another editor's client without an accepted handover.
- Check the existing client conversation before sending anything. Avoid duplicate messages, repeated questions, and duplicate freebies.
- Keep the client updated about progress, missing information, and delays. If you cannot finish, notify your team lead and arrange a handover early.
- Use your own team's topics and page. A Suno page and a Veo page may have similar names but are separate workflows.
- Keep client information inside the team and its approved work tools. Share only what the receiving editor needs.

Remember: `/busy` stops automatic new-client offers. It does not release your accepted clients, cancel a song deadline, or complete a freebie task. Existing responsibilities remain yours until properly finished or handed over.

Getting and accepting clients

What to do when an offer arrives

- Read the client name, page, brief, token, and deadline in the latest offer.
- If it is reserved for you, tap Accept client or send `WORKING A1B2C3D4` in NEW CLIENTS. Replace the sample token with the actual token in your offer.
- New offers allow 15 minutes from delivery to accept. A reminder comes after 10 minutes. This is the acceptance window, not a deadline to finish the work. Older delivered offers keep their printed deadlines.
- Wait for the bot to confirm the owner. You may then contact the client and begin. Successful acceptance keeps your Ready queue running; you do not need to send `/ready` after every client.
- If the offer is unanswered, the bot pauses your automatic offers and sends a turn-ended notice before opening TAKE or arranging another assignment. Send `/ready` again when you are available.

Taking an open offer

Tap Take client or send `TAKE A1B2C3D4` only during the announced 10-minute OPEN TAKE window. You must be eligible through the current hourly availability poll or an active Ready queue. The first eligible claim wins; wait for owner confirmation.

Never use an old offer to take a client back. Older offers keep their printed deadlines. The latest valid owner confirmation controls who handles the client.

Read the client list

Send `/clients` or tap Client list. Use Refresh, Next, and Previous to browse. The overview updates automatically; it may take a short time for a scheduled update to appear.

Status	What it means for you
Available	Waiting for assignment. Do not self-assign from this label.
Reserved	Only the named editor may accept this offer.
Available to TAKE	Use the latest OPEN TAKE offer and its deadline.
Assigned	The confirmed editor owns the client. It is unavailable to others.
Handover pending	The current editor still owns it while the chosen teammate decides.
Awaiting reassignment	Wait for the bot's next valid offer.

The list covers tracked assignments and eligible leads. If the conversation already has another editor or conflicts with the list, stop and ask your team lead to review ownership.

Handing a client to another editor

Request a handover

- Only the current confirmed editor can start it. In NEW CLIENTS, tap Hand over on your owner confirmation or beside your client in the list.
- Choose a teammate in the same group. The receiving editor must be a current member of that team.
- To include a note, reply to the receiving member's Telegram message with `/handover A1B2C3D4` followed by the context. Use the actual client token.
- Explain what is finished, what is pending, the client's last request, where the files are, and any delivery promise or deadline.

Accept, decline, or cancel

- The chosen teammate reviews the brief and note, then taps Accept handover or Decline.
- The requesting editor can tap Cancel handover. Resolve a pending request before choosing someone else.
- Until acceptance is confirmed, the original editor remains responsible. The receiver must not start messaging the client during a pending request.
- After acceptance, the new editor takes over. The previous editor stops handling that client and passes the files and context. Keep the same client token.

Suno deadline: a handover does not restart the original 24-hour song delivery clock.

Copyable example

Reply to the receiving editor's message in NEW CLIENTS:

```
/handover A1B2C3D4
Finished: client brief confirmed; first draft ready.
Pending: client wants a shorter ending.
Files: [approved workspace link]
Promise: final version today by 6 PM PHT.
```

Text alternatives

Who	Command in NEW CLIENTS
Current editor	`/handover A1B2C3D4` to open the teammate picker
Chosen receiver	`/accept_handover A1B2C3D4` or `/decline_handover A1B2C3D4`
Requesting editor	`/cancel_handover A1B2C3D4`

The handover buttons transfer accepted new-client assignments. They do not transfer a separate FREEBIE task or move a client across teams. Ask your team lead to arrange those cases and confirm who is responsible.

Veo teams: freebies and client updates

Complete a freebie task

- Follow the assignment in your team's FREEBIES topic. These tasks use hourly availability and their own token; Ready controls new clients separately.
- Review the conversation, prepare a suitable freebie, and send it to the client. Do not send a freebie another editor already sent.
- After sending it, reply to the task with `FREEBIE SENT A1B2C3D4` using that task's actual token. Only the assigned member can confirm it.
- If you cannot complete it, tell your team lead. Busy alone does not close the task. A completed freebie gives that client a 14-day break before another is assigned.

Done Deals: post once, the bot summarizes

After a client pays, post your usual readable sale record in DONE DEALS. No sale command, client-token code, or Done Deal button is needed.

Client: Maria Santos
Page: Vista Media Agency
Price Deal: 650

Use the actual client, page, and deal amount. Keep tips, revisions and down payments separate. A payment screenshot needs readable text for the bot to include its amount.

The bot adds the deal count, recorded total, and average amount to DAILY REPORTS at closeout. Identifiable duplicates count once; unreadable or conflicting posts need review. Recruiter shares are recorded automatically in the private recruiter reports. Ask your team lead about editor earnings and payouts.

Keep close-deal updates simple

Use CLOSE DEALS for your close-deal record or daily summary. Enter your actual count and the page assigned to your team. Do not repeat individual entries and summaries as separate new deals.

```
Page name: Vista Media Agency
Close Deal: 2

Replace both example values. Your team lead can help with the page name or a correction. Close-deal updates remain separate from client acceptance and handover.

What you still need to do

- Tap Ready in NEW CLIENTS when able to take clients; tap Busy before a break or leaving.
- Accept the offer within 15 minutes and wait for owner confirmation.
- Use Client list to check who handles each client.
- Keep your client informed and use Hand over if another teammate needs to take over.
- Confirm a freebie after sending it. Keep hourly availability polls accurate.

Suno / Trabawho: songs and receipts

Suno work happens in Trabawho?. Use NEW CLIENTS for assignment and handover, SONGS for delivery confirmation, and RECEIPTS for payment records.

From acceptance to delivery

- Accept through the shared client process and wait for confirmation naming you as the owner.
- Read the Suno brief. Some briefs may still have missing details; collect them from the client before finalizing the song.
- Prepare and send the song to the client today and within 24 hours of the original acceptance. Follow the deadline shown by the bot. A new day or handover does not reset it.
- After the client receives the song, post `SONG SENT A1B2C3D4` in SONGS using the actual client token. The current assigned editor must confirm it.
- Wait for the bot to confirm the delivery. Uploading a song into Telegram alone does not mark it as delivered to the client.

Reminders show the remaining time and continue until delivery is recorded. If you will miss a deadline, tell the client and your team lead early. Arrange a handover if needed; do not wait for the overdue reminder.

Record a payment in RECEIPTS

Post readable text with the client name, correct Suno page, and approved amounts. The name lets recruiter reports identify the sale without a bot code. Attach any required payment evidence. The amount outside parentheses is gross; the amount inside parentheses is recorded member earnings.

Client: Maria Santos
HIRAYA
699 (140)
100 (50) tip

This example records 799 gross, 190 member earnings, and a labeled 100 tip with a 50/50 tip share. It is a format example, not a promise that your sale has those amounts. Use the split approved for the actual transaction.

Label tips clearly. Put each amount on its own line. Do not add a total/subtotal line or combine a corrected receipt with a new receipt. Ask your lead to review corrections, refunds, unpaid items, or disputed amounts. An image-only receipt cannot be read by the report.

Receipt recorded and song delivered are separate actions. A receipt does not stop song reminders; SONG SENT does not record payment. Complete both when they apply.

Find your team's topics

Tap a link in the PDF to open Telegram. You need membership in that group. Use your own team row; do not put another team's client or sale in these topics.

If something goes wrong

For an old button, expired offer, duplicate owner, wrong page, or missing confirmation: use the latest message, check `/clients`, and send the message link plus client token to your team lead. Do not keep claiming or contact the client while ownership is unclear. `/clienthelp` opens the guide in NEW CLIENTS.

Buttons not responding? Type `/ready`, `/busy`, `WORKING TOKEN`, `TAKE TOKEN` in NEW CLIENTS. Use your personal Telegram account, not anonymous-admin mode. Only the named editor can accept a reserved client; only the chosen teammate can accept a handover.

If you are a new recruit, choose the person who invited you in the recruiter poll topic when ready to start. Ask an admin if your inviter is missing.

Before leaving: send `/busy`, update your polls, update your clients, confirm completed work, and arrange any unfinished handovers. You remain responsible until the bot confirms a new owner.
